Chicago Jet Group Expands their Avionics Expertise

Chicago/Aurora, IL, October 15, 2010 – Chicago Jet Group, a leading provider of avionic services in business aircraft and an authorized dealer of major avionic manufacturers and suppliers announces and welcomes Derrick Hayden to their avionics team.

“As we expand our avionics department it’s imperative that we have exceptional service,” said Mike Mitera, Director of Operations of Chicago Jet Group. “Derrick has the experience, avionics knowledge and troubleshooting skills we need to continue to enhance our department.”

In his new role as avionics technician, Derrick will be performing cockpit and cabin upgrades, implementing engineering orders and authorizations, and troubleshooting aircraft systems.

Beginning his aviation career in 1991 during his time in the United States Navy, Derrick worked on E2C Hawkeyes and F-18's. Shortly following his military service, Derrick continued his aviation career at Duncan Aviation located at Chicago/Midway Airport. During his successful 10 years at Duncan Aviation, Derrick worked his way up the ladder from an Avionics Technician to Avionics Manager. He will not only bring to Chicago Jet Groups team his vast knowledge of the latest technology, but also avionics navigational and communication skills as well.

In addition to Chicago Jet Group’s new member of staff, they are also diligently working on some exciting and innovative modifications that will bring avionics to the next level. “Growth and progression in this competitive market is essential to the premier level of service we choose to offer,” said Mike Mitera.
